Guy Carpenter's Casualty, Aviation Broking Teams Honored at Reactions London Market Awards

London, July 1, 2010

Guy Carpenter & Company, LLC was named "Casualty Reinsurance Broker of the Year" and "Aviation Reinsurance Broker of the Year" at Reactions magazine's annual London Market Awards, held June 30 at the Grange City Hotel in London.

CASUALTY TEAM

Guy Carpenter's casualty broking team was honored for its work in developing CasCat™, an analytical tool that assesses catastrophe exposure in casualty portfolios. Developed in conjunction with risk modelling specialists Arium and using their proprietary software, CasCat™ facilitates capital allocation and risk transfer decisions and provides the "missing link" in casualty underwriters' enterprise risk management (ERM) strategies.

The product of a four-year development process and rigorous research, CasCat Version 2 was launched in 2010 with a number of key enhancements, including analysis of the likely distribution of event size and spread, automated scenario generation and the assessment of possible consequences of long-tail casualty catastrophes on an insurer's portfolio.

AVIATION TEAM

Guy Carpenter's aviation broking team has established a footprint in all aspects of aviation reinsurance and is the sole broker, flag broker or an active participant in the vast majority of European programs for the largest buyers of aviation reinsurance.

In the U.S. general aviation market – the largest global market – Guy Carpenter is the predominant broking team. Despite challenging aviation market conditions, the team has continued to grow its client base over the past year, winning a new major risk program, enhancing its market standing in a number of sectors and expanding its client base.

QUOTE

Peter Zaffino, President and CEO, Guy Carpenter & Company, LLC

"It is a tremendous honor to be recognized by the Reactions judging panel as the winner in these two categories. Our casualty and aviation teams have been at the forefront of their respective fields, delivering outstanding value and insight to clients and continuing to push the envelope with new innovations and groundbreaking solutions in an increasingly complex business environment."
