Guy Carpenter enters exclusive agreement with TNEDICCA to enhance US auto risk analysis

New York, September 27, 2022 – Guy Carpenter, a leading global risk and reinsurance specialist and a business of Marsh McLennan (NYSE: MMC), announced today that it has entered an agreement with TNEDICCA®, a leader in location-based traffic-crash intelligence and predictive analytics. This exclusive agreement enables Guy Carpenter to deliver enhanced auto analytics to its insurance carrier clients.

Guy Carpenter will use TNEDICCA's location risk products for the US personal and commercial auto marketplace. Access to this key data will help Guy Carpenter's clients develop ratemaking and underwriting strategies, resulting in a more accurate assessment and pricing of auto risks, improving overall profitability for participating insurers.

TNEDICCA analytics leverage country-wide geocoded police crash report data to generate risk scores. This leads to the development of a credible and robust data source for assessing auto risks in the US.

"Through the agreement with TNEDICCA, Guy Carpenter will be able to further provide clients with leading-edge data assets," said Thomas Hettinger, Managing Director and North America Leader for the Global Strategic Advisory team at Guy Carpenter. "This, in turn, will empower carriers to develop innovative products that address new and emerging risks."

"With a deep understanding and reach within the auto insurance market, Guy Carpenter is well positioned to expand distribution of TNEDICCA's innovative risk scores and solutions," said Yiem Sunbhanich, co-founder and CEO of TNEDICCA. "We have seen first-hand the effectiveness of Guy Carpenter's full-service approach in delivering value through full implementation."
