GUY CARPENTER LAUNCHES GC EDGE CLIENT PORTAL

New York, January 21, 2020 – Guy Carpenter & Company, LLC, a leading global risk and reinsurance specialist and a business of Marsh & McLennan Companies (NYSE: MMC), announced today the release of its GC EdgeSM online portal available exclusively to Guy Carpenter clients.

The GC Edge platform is designed to facilitate the delivery of tailored market insight and analytic tools built around each client’s specific business profile and needs. The system supports a new library of interactive dashboards and client-facing tools that allow users to self-service information and analysis relating to their business, market, and peers.

The first offerings available via GC Edge are GC MosaicSM, which provides a series of flexible dashboards that enable clients to perform multi-faceted analysis on market, distribution and macroeconomic factors, and the Guy Carpenter insurance benchmarks annual research, which focuses robust analytics on risk and performance in the U.S. property and casualty insurance industry. Moving forward, a wider range of offerings will be made available via GC Edge, providing clients with greater insight on their reinsurance structure analysis, market position, and opportunities for profitable growth.

Commenting on the launch, John Crichton Managing Director and Chief Information Officer, at Guy Carpenter, said: “The GC Edge Platform represents a significant step forward in how Guy Carpenter utilizes technology to deliver our value proposition to our partners. Guy Carpenter is fully committed to leveraging advancements in cloud computing, security, data analysis, and visualization to enhance the market insight we are providing to our partners every day.”
