

Hi, I'm Megan

Senior Vice President, Seattle

My name is Megan Keith, Senior Vice President at Guy Carpenter. I am a member of the Global Property Center of Excellence team and in this role actively contribute to many of the strategic initiatives within the firm, including the successful launch of the first of its kind treaty placement platform, GC MarketPlace. The projects I am involved in give me an opportunity to meet and work with many strong and thoughtful women within and outside of our organization. I am honored to work with so many of these women in my role.

LIFE

Who is a woman that inspires you?

Why? I'm inspired by the women I interact with on a daily basis whose actions today are creating opportunities for young women tomorrow. Some are managing successful careers, some are managing an ever-changing family life, some are challenging themselves to expand outside their comfort zones and some are doing it all. These women, regardless of their position or authority level, have a greater sense of their abilities to influence the world around them.

When I'm not at work, I'm most happy spending time with my family and trying out new recipes to share with family and friends.

What in your life has brought or given you the greatest satisfaction or fulfillment? Watching and supporting my daughter as she grows into a strong, curious, smart little girl and helping her respect each person's individuality.

WORK

Why do you love working at Guy Carpenter as a woman?

Guy Carpenter has so many talented women influencing the positive trajectory of our firm. We are innovative, we are analytical, we are curious and we are all working to ensure that the best solutions are available for our clients and colleagues. To work amongst these women at Guy Carpenter is an amazing opportunity. We must continue to promote all voices, regardless of gender, and recognize valuable contributions wherever they may originate.

What programs, networking groups, or mentoring opportunities are you involved at Guy Carpenter?

I am motivated by the work that our Employee Resource Groups have undertaken and the contributions they have had to our colleagues' overall well-being. I look forward to becoming a more active participant in these groups going forward.

What's the best career advice you've ever received? The best career advice I have ever received is similar to advice received in my personal life – be authentic, honest and value your own worth.

#WomensHistoryMonth
#EachforEqual
#WomenofGC